++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Increasing cloud, with some outbreaks of rain moving east.

Today:
A chilly but bright start with a few glimmers of sunshine. However, thicker cloud and patchy rain will move into the far west of the country and move slowly eastwards through the day. Turning mild in the west. Breezy. Maximum temperature 11 deg C (52 deg F).

Tonight:
Staying cloudy through the evening and overnight, with outbreaks of rain moving eastwards. Turning drier towards the end of the night. Frost free. Minimum temperature 5 deg C (41 deg F).

Thursday:
A rather cloudy start, with outbreaks of rain across the far southwest. The best of any morning sunshine across the northeast. Rain then moving eastwards through the day. Mild. Maximum temperature 12 deg C (54 deg F).

Outlook for Friday to Sunday:
Often cloudy on Christmas Eve, with further rain moving through. Turning colder Christmas Day, perhaps a little rain and hill snow. After a damp start, Boxing Day may brighten up.
